Fun at the Fair was had by all on Sunday June 1st!

By Sharalee Flesche, Social Chair

The 54th annual Residents of Beverly Glen Fair was a great success thanks to many dedicated volunteers and organizers.

Anel Gorham headed the "Playgroup" division with amazing precision. The annual children's parade led by trombone player Joe Kohansky brought smiles to faces the young and the, well, not so young.

Playgroups contribution of manpower and teamwork brought the children a bouncy slide, face painting and many exciting games and prizes.

The lineup of vendors and artists was diverse, from painting and sculpting to pottery and children's clothing. We enjoyed Italian shaved ice, olive oil, handmade purses and gorgeous jewelry followed by a palm reading or the purchase of fantastic yard art.

Chris Holabird, our Fair founder and the true rock star of the Glen, organized our entertainment. The lineup was magnificent with our favorite Flatland Band, and our local talents: the brilliant Lefteous Sisters with Joe Kohansky, Barber Shop Quartet with Warren Garfield, and everybody's favorite Shayne Warken and Noah Harris who sang their special songs. The Flatland Band kept the party going and had young and old on the dance floor. An incredibly special belly dance performance by Shira, aka Jane Padgett wowed the crowd. The audience enjoyed new talent this year with Saroja Music, Songs by Natalie Gleman and an energetic performance by Veronica Powers.

The food, the food, the food; our local vendors were very, very generous and we can't give enough thanks to Beverly Glen Market at Crater, Fabrocinis, and Beverly Glen Deli for their years of support to our community. I know that we work together and our daily support of our local vendors reaps us rewards at our local events - so keep on supporting them because they are generous and fabulous. We are also very grateful to our local Glen resident chefs that brought us fabulous items to savor from chili to rice pilaf to pasta and oh yes, the desserts. Yummy!

A special treat this year that was not an easy one to get was Richard Renaldo of Beverly Glen Realty who manned the wine booth with his successor Steven Foonberg. Steve Foonberg, Sharalee Flesche and Michelle Vannoy hope to carry on the Richard Renaldo legacy and keep the real estate moving and the prices high.

The charming ladies serving the delicious food were shaded with extra-large canopies donated by Les & Dorothy River Community Center and the Residents of Beverly Glen and it was a

Letter from the President

Dear Glen Neighbors,

Happy end of summer! May Autumn bring cooler and rainy weather.

Did you know that our Canyon was named "The Friendliest in L.A." a few years ago by the L.A. Times?

This neighborhood really is special – because of you! Your Residents' Board extends a heartfelt invitation for you to attend our annual Residents Gathering on October 5th, 2014.

Here in the Glen you have a voice! Politicians, Police and Fire representatives come to talk to us and hear your opinions. You also have a chance to give a couple of hours a month to shape and help your community by either being on the board of the Residents' Association or just attending the meetings the second Monday of the month right here on Scenario Lane.

We have a strong Emergency team – so stay connected to be protected.

Please drive the speed limit – by doing so you encourage others to obey the law, and it might deter some other drivers from using our Glen as a freeway!

Have a wonderful month! See you at our Residents' Gathering!

New Glenite Editor is an "Old Hand"

By Elke Heitmeyer, the new Glenite editor

Once a Glenite, always a Glenite – so here I am, living just a tad over the hill, on the other side of Mulholland, still looking out on Beverly Glen, just not "The Glen" but its Valley extension. If you don't know me from the "old times", when I physically lived in the Glen, I have always been involved, holding various posts on the Residents' board, including President, Treasurer and Social Chair, and heading the Glen Fair Bar for many years as well as doing whatever was needed for the Fair.

I want to stay connected to the community by being your Glenite editor, but I'm hoping for your input and help. Please contact me if you would enjoy participating in this communal paper – writing or editing. Please express yourself! Speak up and share! I would love to feature your opinions in a "Letters to the Editor" column. Just send your articles, stories, and communications to me at glenite@BeverlyGlen.org

TRAFFIC—WHAT IT WILL TAKE TO SLOW IT DOWN?

By Lawrence Imel, Traffic Chair

On June 26, 2014, the Residents of Beverly Glen sponsored a forum between local residents and the Los Angeles Police Department to discuss issues relating to traffic enforcement in the Glen. LAPD West Traffic Division Captain Rolando Solano and Officer Mike Toth fielded questions from residents regarding various common traffic-related issues including the frequency of traffic enforcement patrols in the Glen.

Captain Solano advised those in attendance that he is well aware of the traffic-related issues in the Glen. Unlike several other areas throughout the city, Beverly Glen is a unique residential community which functions as a detour and alternative route for commuters who would otherwise be forced to use the 405 Interstate to travel between the San Fernando Valley and the Westside. The volume of traffic pulsing through the Glen is extraordinary. Speed awareness trailers randomly placed in the Glen over the past several months have recorded anywhere between roughly 7,000 and 10,000 vehicles passing through the Glen within a 24 hour period. These numbers have caught the LAPD's attention and despite the expansive geographic area over which the West Traffic Division operates (including Hollywood, Wilshire, West Los Angeles, Pacific, and Olympic) and the limited number of units to patrol these areas, Captain Solano pledged to increase the number of randomized patrols in the Glen.

While the LAPD cannot restrict the number of vehicles passing through the Glen, they can, and should be expected to, enforce safe speed regulations. Yet Captain Solano reported that the LAPD's hands are tied when it comes to speed enforcement because the state-mandated speed zone survey for the Glen is expired, which prevents the LAPD from using radar or laser technology in the Glen to catch speeding motorists. California law requires that a speed zone survey be conducted before radar or laser is used by police departments for the purpose of enforcing the speed limit. Without the use of radar or laser technology to determine the speed at which motorists are traveling, LAPD officers must either pace the speeding vehicle (which is extremely unsafe in the winding Glen) or estimate the vehicle's speed (for which all traffic officers are professionally trained) – both of which naturally pit the officer's word against the word of the cited motorist in the courtroom and are therefore inferior to electronically recorded speed measurements through the use of radar or laser technology.

Captain Solano reported that, based on the data recorded by the speed awareness trailers, he has opened a complaint with the DOT to update the expired speed survey. Based on my own conversations with DOT representatives, there is a severe backlog on the completion of speed surveys throughout the entire city which will take years to complete. Captain Solano corroborated the information that had been previously given to me and confirmed that approximately 70% of speed surveys in the City are expired.

The process for re-certifying the streets consists of the LADOT measuring the speed of 100 cars during a non-congested time of day, calculating the 85 percentile mark and the appropriate speed limit, asking the Councilmember if they want radar/laser enforcement, asking the LAPD if they want radar/laser enforcement, having the City Attorney draft a new ordinance which is then submitted to the Transportation Commission's consent agenda before heading off to the Transportation committee and the City council for final approval.

So, if anything is going to be done to give the LAPD the power they need to enforce safe speeds in the Glen, we must help our own cause by contacting the Department of Transportation and councilman Paul Koretz's office to demand that the speed survey for the Glen be updated. You may contact the Department of Transportation at: City of Los Angeles Department of Transportation, 100 S.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

Fire Prevention – Fire Reaction: Are You Ready?

By Dan Palmer, Emergency Preparedness Comm.

The CAL FIRE Website sent out a great notice recently about how to deal with wild fires. The fire season is upon us in Southern California, and we are in the middle of a huge drought! We MUST be ready to ACT, not react.

<http://www.readyforwildfire.org/>

This URL takes you to a great interactive, step-by-step page that you will find very useful. My question is: WILL YOU TAKE THE TIME TO READ IT AND DO IT? We all KNOW that we need to be ready, we need to be SET and we need to GO! if the time should arise. We live in a canyon – a north entrance/exit and a south entrance/exit. WE will NOT be the only ones on North Beverly Glen Blvd trying to get away from a fire... the west side or the valley side will also be cutting through our canyon to escape. If you need more information regarding the City of Los Angeles Fire Department, visit <http://www.lafd.com/>. The people, the wildlife, the urban forest in Beverly Glen Canyon depend on our preparation for all emergencies!

HILLSIDE FEDERATION NEWS

By Elke Heitmeyer

Councilmember Koretz submitted several motions to City Council that are of interest to us:

No Smoking in Hillside Motion - it is imperative that hillside areas have an adequate number of and properly located "No Smoking" signs and that fines for violations are sufficient to act as a deterrent. The City Attorney is reviewing the feasibility of a $1,000 fine; if feasible the amount would be posted on "No Smoking" signs.

 Wildlife Corridor Motion - wildlife corridors are vital to aid movement so that animals can move freely without getting killed and to help maintain genetic diversity. P-22 is an example of a mountain lion that crossed the freeway successfully and survived ingesting rodenticide. A mountain lion was recently killed crossing the 101. We need wildlife corridors and this motion will ensure that the City of LA takes wildlife corridors into account during the planning process. If passed, the motion would protect wildlife movement from the I-405 to Griffith Park. The City would require that all hillside properties within the boundaries of the Baseline Hillside Ordinance are reviewed prior to any approval to ensure valuable wildlife connectivity be preserved as part of the planning process. Each project would have to demonstrate that it would not negatively impact wildlife connectivity and if impacted, mitigation would be required. This would lead to permanent habitat protection.

BEVERLY GLEN PLAYGROUP

by Dayna Danovitch, Playgroup Rep.

Beverly Glen Playgroup is a parent-run cooperative preschool located in the heart of Beverly Glen. We occupy the Les and Dorothy River Community Center on Scenario Lane.

We offer a morning and afternoon program. VOLUNTEERING FOR YOUR COMMUNITY

By Gillian Calof, Vice President

Volunteers have an enormous impact on the health and well-being of communities worldwide; the contributions of volunteers to our society are enormous, and critical functions could not be filled without them. Volunteers fight fires and assist in search and rescue; they help to keep our neighborhoods, streets, parks, rivers, green spaces, and water clean and safe; they tutor, teach, mentor, coach, and support young people; they help at animal shelters. The types of roles filled by volunteers are endless. Another way to look at the impact of volunteers is in statistics – in 2013 alone more than 62 million people volunteered over 8 billion hours. You get the picture.

Volunteers are also the backbone of the Residents of Beverly Glen. Each position is held by a volunteer who, along with this role, juggles home, family, work, and countless other responsibilities. Yet they make time for this important role for good reasons. Have you thought about becoming a volunteer in our community? Consider helping out by joining a committee of the Residents of Beverly Glen, or seeking a position on the board. Here are just a few reasons why you should:

Volunteers gain professional experience and personal growth. Volunteering helps you learn about the functions and operation of our government and gain knowledge of local resources available to solve community needs. It can also foster empathy and self-efficacy.

It brings people together. As a volunteer you help unite and work with people from diverse backgrounds toward a common goal; you help build camaraderie and teamwork.

Volunteering strengthens your community and is a chance to give back. Community service is an investment in our Glen community and the people who live in it. If you use community resources or participate in Glen events, this is a great chance to give back.

It's good for you. Volunteering and giving back to your community can be incredibly rewarding, which can in turn reduce stress.

At the end of the day you make a difference!

Another way to visualize the impact and importance of volunteers in our community is this: Imagine if one day, all of our volunteers simply didn't show up. We'd be without a voice to the City, without a representative to oversee traffic issues or matters affecting hillside communities; we wouldn't have a coordinator to oversee and plan all of our important community events like the annual Glen Fair and annual members' meeting; we wouldn't have an emergency preparedness committee to help prepare our community for a disaster; and, importantly, we wouldn't have an editor for this long-standing important community newsletter!

THE "3 R'S"

By Hildreth Simmons, Secretary & Recycling Guru

Well, it's that time of year again. Lined paper, pencil boxes and protractors are on shelves at the front of the drugstore. As did we all, I first encountered the tools for those 3 R's in 1st Grade. But I had also already discovered the other kind of 3 R's: "Reduce, Reuse, Recycle," much to my mom's bewilderment, when I came into our apartment dragging a waffle iron and 3-way swing-arm lamp along with me. I'd picked them up on the landing outside Apartment #2A while walking up the four flights to mine. Since they wouldn't fit into the incinerator trapdoor, to be dropped down the chute to the basement and burned, they'd been left for the "Super" to handle. When I spotted them, they looked fine, and thought we could use them. I loved the waffles my grandma made. Although my mother had a fit initially, they were put to good use for many years at our "summer house at the lake."

I've been "collecting" and "reusing" ever since. The "burgeoning bottles" periodically need to be purged (the jars from instant coffee, peanut butter, etc., are valuable in the REUSE department but enough is enough - so then they're RECYCLED, while I REDUCE on a personal level.)

That's what this new addition to the Glenite is intended to be all about - an exchange of information and ideas. I'll try to find the answers to questions you send me about environmental and sustainability concerns; grants that may be available for your pet project; actions in which we can participate individually or as a community.

First to think about - Do you recycle? Do you think about what should go into the blue instead of the black bins so it doesn't add to already overfilled land-fills (dumps)? To wash or not to wash first? What to do with used clothing? Send me your questions, and I'll reply personally and/or answer in the next Glenite.

I'm a member of a few different "Green" groups, e.g., as Senior Advisor on the City of LA, Office of Community Beautification's KLAB (Keep LA Beautiful) Committee, which has direct links to Sanitation and Public Works Department information, with grants available to local "green projects".

MEDED, (Making Every Day "Earth Day")

IN THE KITCHEN WITH DIANE TIRAMISU (no eggs and no baking)

We recently had a birthday lunch served by our good friend, Tatiana, and she served this delicious tiramisu. She had used 3 egg yolks; I replaced that with whipped cream for this recipe.

Prep time: 30 minutes to put together and 6 hours in the refrigerator. Use a 13 x 9 baking dish.

Ingredients

- 1 1/2 cups brewed espresso or strong French roast coffee (room temp)
- 1 shot of cognac
- 3 8 oz containers of mascarpone cheese
- 4 tbs superfine sugar
- 1 1/2 cups heavy cream
- 24- 30 Italian ladyfingers (Forno Bonomi is the best, which can be found at Italian or Persian markets)
- Unsweetened cocoa powder or coarsely grated dark chocolate for decoration

Directions:

Mix the coffee and liqueur together in a bowl and set aside. Mix the mascarpone and sugar in a bowl until the sugar dissolves. Whip the cream in another bowl until it holds its shape, and fold it into the mascarpone mixture. Divide this into two bowls. Now the layering: Start with the ladyfingers. Dip and turn one ladyfinger at a time in the coffee mixture until just moistened, not soggy, and place it in the dish (lying flat) Repeat this until the whole bottom is covered with the ladyfingers (side by side, flat). After you have laid down your lady fingers cover them with half of the mascarpone mixture. Add another layer of ladyfingers (dipped in coffee). Layer the remaining mascarpone on the top of your second row of lady fingers, and smooth the surface. Cover the bowl with plastic wrap, and refrigerate for at least 6 hours. Just before serving sprinkle the top with either sifted cocoa powder or grated dark chocolate to taste.

great day for the grillers as well, organized by Chuck Buell to flip those burgers and hot dogs to perfection.

Thirsty throats found a cool beer or soft drink at Diana Le Fleur's bar, charmingly served by her and her crew.

Our local City Councilman Paul Koretz greeted us and presented The Residents of Beverly Glen with a Recognition of the Fair and the Community Organization, calling us a "romantic community".

A great big Thank You goes to the Foos family for their years of opening their magical yard for our fair. The cleanup crew on Sunday was a true band of warriors, led by Dan and Tensie Palmer (and a few children). We lugged tables into the shed into the dark of night and had a blast doing it. Although - hint hint - next year a team of 10 would cut the job in half; so I'll be looking for you.

Thank you to Todd Clark for organizing security and traffic, and Karen Simonson handling all the scrip tables and important money issues, and to Bob Grunauer & his mother for making sure members of RoBG were welcomed at the door. And thank you Elke Heitmeyer for organizing and managing all the volunteers and their schedules.
